Re: Aquatic Center Open This Weekend

The Russ McEwen Aquatic Center will reopen tomorrow, Saturday, June 14th. Repairs have been ongoing since the June 8th storm and city staff have worked diligently so the community can once again enjoy the facility.

The Aquatic Center staff thanks the public in advance for their patience over the next week. The severe weather on June 8th also knocked out the system that handles all payments/cash registers and it would be appreciated if people had cash (especially $1s and $5s) to help the lines move faster until all our registers are up and running online again.

We appreciate your patience and understanding while we make necessary repairs. If you have questions, please contact the Community Services Office at 432-264-2323.
